My advice to young women professionals would be that worrying about other people's opinions is a waste of time. Don't care what anyone else says. Be selfish – seek your own source of happiness.

ANKUR WARIKOO

Entrepreneur and Motivational Speaker

As a startup, always listen to the market – It will tell you what it wants and whether what you're doing is right or not. If you listen and drop your ego, you'll always win.

PANKAJ MOHINDROO

Chairman, India Cellular and Electronics Association (ICEA)

We're standing at the threshold of a $250+ billion opportunity – the future of consumer electronics in India is immense.

AMAN GUPTA

Earlier, there were very few or no electronics manufacturers in India. But today, a whole ecosystem is being built. Manufacturing in India has grown so much that we're now producing for the world.

Today, there are individual wearables and devices; in the future, they'll form a unified ecosystem where interoperability and data syncing become the biggest challenges.

SATYA N. SATYENDRA

Indian mobile phone industry is currently worth nearly $47billion, it will continue to soar and expected to reach $78 billion by 2032.

HARI OM RAI

The only way Indian ecosystem can take our fair share in the global GDP is by building global electronics champions from India!

PRANAY RAO

AI was once more of a party trick, but in the future, it's going to be an integral part of the smart phone ecosystem, ideally making many decisions on your behalf.
